

Legal battle possible over school lands

By BRENT MACEY

A legal battle may be forthcoming between the Hancock County School District and the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District over payments between districts of lease money acquired from 16th section lands.

State law requires districts split the amount of money acquired through lease of those lands in accord to the numbers of educable students each district has living on shared 16th sections.

The school districts share two 16th Section Lands: section 16-9-14, which includes Garden Isle Subdivision and BaySide Park in Bay St. Louis; and Section 16-9-14, containing most of Waveland and Succaneer State Park. The Bay district claims some 1,070 educable students live on section 16-9-14, and some 481 students on section 16-9-14.

The Hancock School board claims some 186 educable students in section 16-9-14 attend the Hancock District, and 277 students attend the county schools from section 16-9-14.

Friday, the Hancock County School

Board received a letter from Lucien Gex, Bay St. Louis Separate School District attorney, requesting a $155,561 payment to the Bay school district. The payment is money considered owed since the 1977-78 school year for educable students living on the two sections.

In addition, the Bay district also requests interest payments on that money since 1977. That figure has not been determined. Billy Sils, Hancock School District superintendent, said.

Sils delivered the message to the board, stating, "I have some very bad news which has concerned me very much."

After reading the letter, Sils told the board he did not mind paying the $155,561, but did object to having to pay interest on that amount.

Louie Ladner, Hancock school board member, said he felt the Hancock District does not owe any money to the Bay district. Ladner claims the Hancock district never informed the Hancock district about the numbers of educable students living on the shared 16th section lands.

Ladner says a state law requires the districts to declare the number of educable students by Dec. 31 of the school year.

Sils said he took office in January of 1980 and is unaware if the Bay School District requested payments before that time.

Ladner said the district never did contact the Hancock Board informing them of the numbers of students living on section 16-9-14.

"They (the Bay school district) never followed through and requested the funds," Ladner said.

"This is going to be a legal battle," he added.

Ladner said Hancock County used to pay the Bay school district money for Bay district students living on section 16-9-14; however, the section changed hands and the Bay School Board currently pays the Hancock Board, he said.

The Hancock Board Friday accepted a $891 payment from the Bay school district for section 16-9-14.

Board members agreed to have Joseph Gex, Hancock County School Board Attorney, contact Lucien Gex over the matter.

THE RAILWAY—Operating a rail spike driving machine on railroad tracks in Bay St. Louis recently are Donny and Nellyville Railroad machine operators Harold M. Miller, Jr., Evergreen, Ala., and Thomas Phifer of Phenix, Ala. The company is replacing rails and rotting cross-ties from the New Orleans to New Orleans in an effort to improve its tracks. Joe Sellers, an L and N superintendent, Thursday said the company will spend some $1.5 million in Hancock County track improvements alone. (Staff photo by Wayne Dacomb Jr.)

Compretta to seek curb on free-flowing water

By ELLIS CUEVAS

State Representative J. P. Compretta said Friday he will prefile a bill to prohibit water wells from flowing freely under artesian head with no control or regulating mechanism on the wells.

Compretta contacted Charles T. Branch, director of the Mississippi Bureau of Land and Water Resources via telephone recently concerning the matter.

The representative said, "I am going to introduce the bill myself. I have received numerous telephone calls and have had persons to stop me on the street about these wells where water is wasting."

"I know where there are several wild wells flowing in Hancock County, and feel a valuable resource is being lost," Compretta added.

Compretta received a letter in reply from Branch recommending legislative action to control the flow of the wild wells.

Branch stated, "For too many years we have seen situations where individuals or corporations allowed a well to flow freely under artesian head with no control or regulating mechanism on the wells. To prohibit this practice, through legislative action, would be a positive step toward eliminating by this means the wasteful misuse of ground-water throughout our state. The staff of the Department of Natural Resources stands ready to assist in putting together revisions to our laws that would prohibit anyone from allowing a well to continuously free-flow."

Branch also sent several publications to Compretta on the latest update to resource investigations that have been going on for many years by the U.S. Geological Survey, Board of Water Commissioners, and the Mississippi R & D Center.

Compretta allowed, "I have received complaints from persons living near wild wells who have told me their own wells' pressures are dropping and possibly the free-flowing wells are causing the problem."

"I know the water table has been dropping each year according to official surveys, and feel now is the time to curb the waste of a product as valuable as water is to our nation and state," Compretta continued.

Compretta stated, "I also encourage any of my constituents with comments on the subject of the free-flowing water wells, as well as any other matter, to please contact me."

The representative said he hopes to have the bill passed in the 1982 legislature on the free-flowing wells.

NSTL center registers 50,000 in year

The Visitors Center at the National Space Technology Laboratories in Hancock County has registered its 50,000 visitor since opening last November.

The visitor was Debbie Hart of Sibley, La., who was touring the installation Oct. 16 with her family. She was presented with several gifts to mark the occasion.

"To Fly," the highly acclaimed film featured at the National Air and Space Museum in Washington, D.C., is now being shown at the Visitors Center.

The film, one of the most popular attractions at the Smithsonian museum, traces the history of flight and man's achievements in aviation.

"To Fly" is shown throughout the day in the Visitors Center auditorium along with other current space—and science-related films, videotapes and slide presentations.

The public is invited to NSTL's Visitors Center near Bay St. Louis, each Monday through Friday, except holidays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. There is no admission charge and cameras are allowed.

In addition to viewing presentations, exhibits and displays at the Visitors Center, individuals and groups who visit NSTL can take guided tours of the installation with personnel from the Visitors Center. Souvenirs are available in the lobby of the Visitors Center.

NSTL's Visitors Center opened Nov. 19, 1980, with expanded hours of operation and an enhanced exhibit area. Since that time, visitors representing all 50 states and 40 foreign countries have toured NSTL.

Last May, space shuttle astronauts John Young and Robert Crippen, the commander and the pilot for the Columbia's first mission in April, cut the ribbon to "officially" open the Visitors Center. The Columbia's three main engines were certified for flight at NSTL.

The Visitors Center, whose theme is "Space-Ocean-Earth," features permanent as well as special exhibits and displays and current films, videotapes and slide presentations reflecting the missions of NASA and NSTL resident agencies.

NSTL officials point out that area Hospitality and Welcome Centers and Chambers of Commerce are cooperating with the tour program by informing visitors and local residents about the Visitors Center.

Save for the silver lining.

There are old songs that advise you to look for the silver lining. Certainly a good piece of advice. But there's some better advice: Save for the silver lining.

Save enough to line those dark clouds. It's easy: Buy U.S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan. On the Plan, you set aside a little each payday for Bonds. And that'll chase some gloom away, right off.

But if dark skies should appear, remember Bonds can help you ride the sunny side of life.

Take stock in America.

The police chief stated, "Nocales was lucky he was wearing a helmet at the time of the accident. The front wheel of the motorcycle reportedly went underneath the car in the collision."

He said the motorcycle sustained about $200 damage; no charges were filed and Patrolman Chuck James investigated the mishap.

Two Bogalusa, La. teenagers were injured in a Wednesday accident near the Junior Community when their automobile apparently struck the side of a Louisville and Nashville Railroad engine.

Ronald A. Peterson, Hancock's sheriff, Friday said his office received a report of the collision at about 8:40 p.m.

He said the accident occurred at the intersection of the L and N Railroad and LaFrance Road.

Peterson reported Gregory W. Slaughter, 17, the driver of the car, and Kathy Pigote, 16, both of Bogalusa, were traveling north on the road at an apparent speed of 40 miles per hour when they struck the engine moving westward.

Delbert Seay, a sheriff's investigator, said the impact knocked the vehicle about 40 feet off the roadway and caused extensive damage to the front of the vehicle.

He noted both teenagers were transported by Mobile Medical to Hancock General where they are listed in satisfactory condition.

A hospital spokesman said both youths suffered multiple lacerations and bruises, but Slaughter also suffered a leg fracture.

PEARLINGTON MAN DIES

A Pearlington man died on US-90 Thursday afternoon from apparent natural causes after he stopped his vehicle on the highway shoulder.

Dennis T. Faville, a deputy Friday said Kenneth (Lucky) Huggar, 45, died from a massive coronary at about 1:30 p.m.

The deputy stated that Huggar's wife was riding with him when he reportedly experienced a shortness of breath, stopped the automobile on the road shoulder west of the truck scales, got out of the car, fell striking his head and suffered the fatal attack.

Faville said Huggar apparently died within a matter of minutes and Carl Babin, county coroner pronounced the man dead at the scene.

The deputy noted that Mike Cox, a Mississippi State Highway patrolman, and Mobile Medical personnel also responded to the scene.

Edmond Faley Funeral Home to Bay St. Louis is in charge of Huggar's funeral arrangements.

CAUTION IN CENTERS

Don't reported numerous fender-bender vehicle accidents are occurring in Waveland shopping center parking lots.

He urges motorists to obey traffic direction arrows painted on pavement, avoid cutting across lots like they are open fields, and watch for cars backing out of parking spaces.

Mississippi lawyers providing free statewide legal service

Legal Line, a newly sponsored by the Mississippi State Bar, American Bar Association and the Jackson Young Lawyers Association is a public service project designed to provide basic legal information to the public throughout Mississippi.

Each Tuesday evening, volunteers from the Jackson Young Lawyers Association man telephone lines at the Mississippi State Bar office from 6 to 8 p.m.

The service is designed to provide basic legal information to those calling, and when necessary to refer the callers to either the Lawyer Referral Service operated by the Mississippi State Bar or one of eight legal service corporations in Mississippi.

Legal line, the first project of its kind in the country, has been in operation for over ten months and is considered an overwhelming success.

Anyone having a legal problem or who needs information in regard to a legal matter should call legal line from 6 to 8 p.m. on Tuesday evenings.

Persons in Jackson desiring assistance should call 348-4471.

Those persons from outside Jackson should call toll free 1-800-882-4423.

Hallford, comptroller, who reported collections are still well ahead of last year.

Hallford reported he still has collection agencies working on delinquent accounts.

The trustees approved three more doctors to the consulting staff.

A discussion was held on the number of new doctors being added to the staff.

The trustees explained that the more doctors on the staff, the more services could be offered by HGH to the community.

Langston stated Dr. T. Flores, orthopedic surgeon, has now moved into his office across from HGH. Dr. Bernard Sy, pediatrics, whose office had been destroyed by fire and was practicing in Dr. A. Alcala's office, has moved to an office next door.

Pass Pirates give away victory to St. Martin

By WAYNE DUOMO JR. The Pass Christian High School Pirates gave away a victory to the St. Martin High School Yellowjackets in a Friday night contest in McDonald Stadium. St. Martin defeated the Pirates 13-6. The Pirates' poor performance Friday night can also be attributed to the fact that the loss to the Blue Devils knocked the Pass out of a top spot in the Deep South Football Conference standings. Lumpkin also noted, "We were a little defeated after the loss to Pearl River."

Hawks Friday, but Hancock's 22-yard rushing total was well ahead of the Crusaders' 13. Arcement attempted only one pass, his 33-yard touch-down connection with Giff. The Hawks were never in a punting situation all evening, and MC's two punts averaged 32.5 yards.

Hancock fumbles three times, recovering two, and Mercy Cross dropped two and lost one.

Seven penalties cost the Hawks 65 yards, while eight calls netted 60 yards against the Crusaders.

Hancock meets Bay High in Hawk Stadium this week and conference leader Pearl River Central the following week to close out the regular season.

Easterling addresses District I VFW

A meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Ladies Auxiliary District One, was held at Post No. 2444, Biloxi, October 18.

The joint session was under the leadership of Commander Arthur "Sonny" Kibbler.

State Commander Hubie Barnes, Biloxi, commended the group on efforts in all phases of VFW including work for hospitalized veterans in the Biloxi and Gulfport VA centers.

Guest speaker was immediate past State Commander Dick Easterling, Starkville, who is now serving in the national "Voice of Democracy" committee.

Mr. Easterling spoke on the importance of our youth and encouraged each post and auxiliary to put the VOD program in each school.

"Voice of Democracy" is a script-writing contest for all

10th, 11th and 12th grade students throughout the nation. It is sponsored each year by the VFW and ladies auxiliary with the cooperation of the national and state association of broadcasters. The theme this year is "Building America Together." If your school does not participate and you wish to enter, please contact your local VFW or auxiliary. This year national scholarship awards will be $1,000 with first place $14,000, second place $7,000, third place $4,000, fourth place $2,500, fifth place $2,000, and sixth place $1,000.

If a student wins locally he will be entered in the district competition. The district winner will progress to the state competition and state winner will receive a $5,000 expense-paid trip to Washington, D.C. and the opportunity to compete for the national scholarship.

Other men in attendance who are serving on national committees were Danling, Loper and Eddie Mize. Biloxi and Diamond Blakeney of Long Beach.

During the 1954-55 season, District President Patricia Necaise, Biloxi, recognized Mrs. Post No. 2444, Post Christian.

Woodard, Gulfport, who is serving as Southern Conference Americanism chairman.

State President Dorothy Barker, Waynesboro, made an official visit, commending the auxiliaries in the district for their work.

The next district meeting will be January 24 at 2 p.m. at Post No. 2444, Post Christian.

Largest pecan crop since '73 expected

Mississippi pecan growers are expected to make a comeback over the slump of the last few years with the largest crop since 1973.

The Mississippi share of the crop, joined by large national production, may allow producers to regain a share of per capita consumption this year.

Pecans, as part of the total nut consumption, have been losing ground in recent years. A report issued by the Mississippi Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said Mississippi's pecan crop is estimated to reach 10 million pounds this year compared to 5.5 million in 1979 and 5 million in 1978.

Farmers acquired special skills to keep tools working, wagons rolling

One of the regular tasks on the farm were I grew up at Lake Cormier, Jasper County, Mississippi 80 to 90 years ago was keeping the tools of all kinds in usable condition.

My father usually bought his single trees, and double trees, but during the great depression of the early 1900s he used oak, hickory or ash wood to make his single trees, double trees, and wheel trees.

My father was not an expert blacksmith but did most of his repairs and keep work in his own small shop where he had a forge, a vise, hammers, tongs, a vice, hammers, chisels, and a true with a mallet.

When there was a job to do that required more skill, he carried this work to a nearby blacksmith.

To get the handles for the hoes used on his farm, he would go out into the woods and select young hickory, oak or ash trees with a diameter of about 1 to 2 inches at the flared end which sloped gradually to about 6 to 8 feet.

To get the wood beams for his plows, he would select a straight grained oak tree, cut it to the correct length and split it into the correct size for the particular job he had in mind.

He would shape and form the beam or other part with a drawing knife, a spoke shave and a plane until it was as good as new.

ASCS Report

Franklin County executive director, Pearl River, Hancock County Agricultural Extension and Cooperative Service (ASCS) office, has announced to use that opportunity to nominate eligible farmers as candidates in the ASCS committee election.

Gemini went on to say that any farmer who is a member of the community may petition the name of an eligible farmer to be placed on the election ballot for the community.

Each year, petition must contain the names of only one nominee. Each petition will serve as a ballot and must be signed by at least three eligible voters. Petitions must be postmarked or brought to the county office not later than November 2.

Most all persons engaged in farming are eligible to vote in the ASCS committee election and are eligible to hold office. However, anyone needing further information concerning eligibility to vote or hold office should contact the county ASCS office.

A list of the names of all persons eligible to vote in the ASCS, an agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, is responsible for farm program administration. The local level ASCS operates under a farmer-elected committee system, Gemini said.

Anyone who meets the following requirements is eligible to vote in ASCS committee elections: Any individual of legal voting age with an interest in a farm as owner, operator, tenant, or sharecropper, and who is eligible to participate in any ASCS program.

Persons not of legal voting age who supervise and conduct farming operations on an entire farm are also eligible to vote in ASCS elections. No person can be denied the right to vote because of race, sex, color, religion, or national origin.

A person may cast a ballot in the community in which he is an eligible ASCS voter, but he cannot vote in more than one community in the county, Gemini said.

Anyone having questions about ASCS committee member elections should contact the Pearl River-Hancock County ASCS Office.

HALLOWEEN STORY HOUR

Halloween, Halloween When very scary things are seen.

Thursday's when we'll celebrate All pre-schoolers don't be late.

10:30 a.m. is when we'll begin. Howls and screams—An unearthly din.

Wear a costume, Bring a friend, Stay until the fun is over.

You'll get a trick And then a treat—Something soft and gooey and sweet.

Or maybe not. Just wait and see At the Bay St. Louis Library.

THE HANCOCK COUNTY CHAPTER IS OFF AND RUNNING! JOIN IN THE EFFORT.

CITIZENS AGAINST NUCLEAR DISPOSAL

NEXT MEETING MONDAY, OCT. 26
8:00 p.m. at the Hancock County Library, 100 N. Main Street, Uman, Avenue entrance.

Brief

The annual observance of the Great American Smokey Day focuses public attention on cigarette smokers from coast to coast in their day. The Smokey Day is an up-beat, good-natured effort to encourage smokers to give up cigarettes for 24 hours. It is a day when smokers are encouraged to quit smoking and to enjoy the benefits of a smoke-free life.

Pork popularity is especially high in European countries, where it is a favorite of renowned chefs as well as family homemakers.

All this indicates that perhaps it won't be too many years before pork — the world's favorite meat — becomes America's favorite.

AIRMAN COOPER
Airman Lester F. Cooper, son of William M. Cooper of Carroll Ave., Long Beach, and Dorothy L. Cooper of Ames, Iowa, has been assigned to Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., after completing four years of flying training during the past season at Chanute Air Force Base. The airman joined the U. S. Army Aviation School of Instruction at Fort Rucker, Ala., and completed his training in that institution.

At Chanute, Airman Cooper received the training which is required on graduation and worked on aircraft which are typical of those which are operated overseas through the community program of the Air Force.

He will now receive further instruction in the use of the airplane in the field.

Martin Marietta names director

Joseph C. Spencer has been named director of program development at the Michoud division of Martin Marietta Aerospace in New Orleans. He was previously director of program development for Martin Marietta's Strategic Systems division in Denver, Colo.

Spencer joined Martin Marietta in 1980 as an engineer on the Titan missile program.

During his 21 years with Martin Marietta, Spencer has held a number of management positions in Denver, including director of program development for the Space and Electronics Systems division and deputy director of NASA program requirements. He also worked at the company's Washington, D.C. office as manager of research and development, marketing, and at the company's Orlando, Fla. division as a senior engineer on the Sprint missile program.

He graduated from South Dakota School of Mines and Technology with a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering and later earned a master's degree in business administration from Rollins College. He completed the Stanford University Executive program in 1977.

J.C. SPENCER

Spencer is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, a director of the Sunset Energy Council and a director of the Rocky Mountain Section of the American Astronautical Society. He and his wife, Theresa, have three children. They live in Slidell, La.

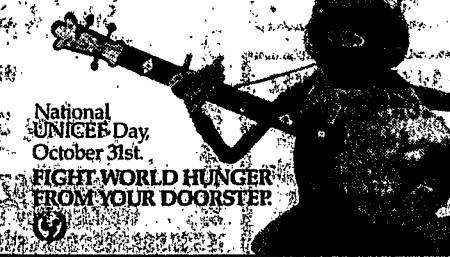

"Time is the wisest counselor of all."

"Hunger shouldn't be kid stuff."

Being hungry isn't easy for anyone. But it's certainly hardest on kids. That's why I'm asking you to join me in the fight against world hunger.

On October 31st, National UNICEF Day, UNICEF Trick-or-Treaters will come to your door asking you to help. Please give generously.
